Excerpt: .and the information relative to Mrs. Rayland which at the Hall he had been denied. He soon arrived; and, with a short stick he carried with him, rapped loudly at the door. A woman soon after looked out of the window from whence the light had proceeded, and inquired, in apparent alarm, Who is there? Orlando answered, Is it Mrs. Whitly who speaks? Mrs. Whitly, friend! replied the female voice: Lord! I cannot think what you want here at this time o night; why, master s a bed, and the men folk too--I m sure I wish you d go about your business. My business, said Orlando, is with Mr. Whitly--Tell him it is Orlando Somerive, his old friend. The woman then retired from the window as if to speak to somebody, and, presently returning, cried, Master says how he knows no such person--Young squire Orlando is dead a long while ago in parts beyond sea; and you must be an impostor--for twas well known the young man s not alive, and all his family were in mourning for un before they went out of this country. The woman would then have shut the window; but Orlando, rendered half frantic by her last expression, conjured her with so much vehemence to hear him, that she delayed it a moment. He implored her to tell him what she meant by saying that the Somerive family had left the country. Why tis plain, answered she, that you...
