English Literature, language: English, abstract: Wading through the tempestuous waters within which our society is drowning, is India's first Sahitya Akademi award winning dramatist, Mahesh Dattani. He is a humanist who uses his multifaceted personae as a weapon in his fight against inhumanity. Dattani sees in society what others wish to ignore. His works are a plea for humane treatment of homosexuals, equality towards women and moreover equal rights for every small section of society including the hijras. His plays question all kinds of discrimination, be it religious prejudice, gender discrimination or even homosexuality. His plays not only bring up gender issues and the space allotted to women in a patriarchal society, but also deal with gender prejudices which affect the lives of the female child even amongst educated, urban families. Mahesh Dattani is a name that guided the weakling Indian English Drama on the path of reliability, steadfastness and distinct identity. He has an ability to amalgamate...
